COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The work tempo for the town highway department has picked up quite a lot this past week. One water service has been connected at West Bethel and work on the other service is nearing completion.

Robert Sailer, the Field Engineer for the Portland Cement Association, was in Bethel on Monday of this week. He took some samples of fill that might be used to raise the lower end of Mechanic Street. Samples from the Mechanic Street surface and sub-surface will be taken in about two weeks when the holes for three manholes are opened.

A manhole was installed on the upper end of Church Street. This spot has bothered quite a lot in the past. This was the second time within a year that the sewer has had to be dug up and cleaned. The selectmen, town manager and highway foreman all agreed that it would save a great deal of time and money to build the manhole at this time.

The Fire Station Study Committee traveled to Mexico Tuesday evening of this week and looked over their new municipal building. Mr. True, the Town Manager of Mexico, showed us around the building and explained the size, costs, and other details of the building. The next meeting of the committee will be May 15 at the fire station.

Michael Houlihan

Nelson Smith arrived home Wednesday morning from Great Lakes, Ill., on 15 days leave. He will return to Quonset, R. I., and will be located on the carrier Champlain.

The former home of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Howe at the junction of "Lover's Lane" and the West Bethel road, which was bought by Paul Carter last fall, is being remodeled to serve as a store and service station. The buildings were moved back to a new foundation and it is expected that an Esso station will be opened there by June 1.

The Legion Auxiliary met Tuesday evening at the Legion Rooms with 12 members and one guest present. The Poppy Posters were judged. Those receiving awards were: 1st, Boyd Lane, grade 8, of Newry; 2nd, Vickie Brown, grade 6, of Bethel; 3rd, Lee Vail, grade 8, of Newry. Honorable mention: George Nickerson, Kathleen Brown, Brenda Sweetser. The judges were Mrs. George Bowhay, Mrs. Pearl Tibbets, Mrs. Francis Berry. The Poppy Committee is Edith Smith, Helen Smith, Margaret Baker, Albert Agnew, Stephanie Thurston. Three delegates were appointed to go to the Old Orchard Convention: Albert Agnew, Stephanie Thurston, Helen Smith. Alternates were Laura Inman, Caroline Merrill, Margaret Baker. Iowa Forbes received the memento package. The next meeting will be held May 22.

The Barn of Henry Godwin, Mayville, as it Burned May 2

May 5, 1962
To the Editor of the Bethel Citizen:

Dear Sir:

During our recent visit to Bethel we witnessed the destruction of the Godwin barn by fire. It was a frightening experience. As we approached the area of the fire from the village it was impossible to determine what was burning. We knew that it was in the area of the Godwin's, Thurston's, Barker's, Douglass's, and Mary Ladd's with whom we were staying. The flames leaped upward and for too long a moment it seemed that the entire area was doomed.

That the fire was confined to the barn is my sole reason for writing you. The fire fighters were truly magnificent. Seldom if ever have I seen, anywhere, more know-how applied to a similar emergency. The air of confidence, the dexterity, the calm and the professionalism with which these volunteer fire fighters went about the business at hand was heartening. The efforts of the men evoked our complete admiration and respect. The adjoining buildings and the animals were all saved to everybody's great relief.

However it seems to me that the feats of unselfish sacrifice and bravery displayed by the men are worthy of some public attention. Such service can hardly be taken for granted on each occasion on which it is rendered without some recognition. I knew several of the men, and it would be unfair to single out any one of them. Nevertheless there were two who risked their lives over and above what seemed to me, at least, to be beyond the call of duty, when they took a position in a ditch a few feet from the roaring inferno to play the successful effort to keep the fire from the near-by hen house.

This type of service is in the finest tradition of our country. Any community that is capable of organizing this type of service on short notice is fortunate indeed. The outstanding feature of the service is its voluntary aspect.

The thought that a group of men stands constantly ready to risk life and limb in behalf of a needy neighbor is exciting and uplifting in itself. Throughout the year there must be countless feats of the type that I witnessed on Wednesday last. It would seem to me to be fitting to build a town fund through voluntary contributions, the annual income from which would be awarded to the volunteer fire fighter or fighters who in the opinion of their fellow fireman had earned it. I have in mind a fund in the neighborhood of $5,000. It could be raised over a period of years and put to the uses indicated above. If it grows some of the income can be used to buy necessary equipment. These men deserve it. Why not try the idea?

Sincerely,
Mark E. Cymrot

SCHOOL NEWS

Newry's Branch School graduation exercises will be held Monday June 11, 7:30 p. m. at the Newry church. Mrs. Ruth Curtis will have charge of the program.

The Bethel School Building Committee has announced the list of bidders for the contract to construct a two-room addition to Crescent Park School. Bidders include, Frank Lowell and Stanley Davis, Bethel; K. Foster, Wilton; Gerard Cor, Lewiston; W. Mercier, Livermore Falls; and A. Hodson, Rumford.

The committee will open bids on May 25 and it is anticipated construction will begin in early June.

A joint meeting of the Bethel-Newry School Committees was held last Thursday. It was voted to form a School District study Committee to study possibility of district reorganization. Dexter Stowell and Raymond Foster were elected committee co-chairmen.

Beginning next Monday a copy of the plans for the CPS addition will be on display at the Bethel Savings Bank.

Dr. Philip Annis, Director of Instruction, Dept. of Education, spoke at the Five Town Teachers Club meeting in West Paris last night. Annis emphasized the importance of our educational system today and pointed out that with the changing employment picture the schools incur a greater responsibility. He pointed out that only twenty years ago 27% of the United States labor force was employed in unskilled occupations which required little education. Today, however, he said, only 6% of all jobs are classified as unskilled and that a high school education is considered the minimum educational preparation.

Annis also pointed out that in recent weeks Congress has provided for training of unskilled workers under the Manpower Act which is to be administered jointly by the Departments of Labor and Education in an effort to relieve unemployment.

The importance of the teacher as a leader Annis said, should be stressed. He stated that the teacher must "open doors so other people can get through" by providing in the classroom the education and experience pupils need to learn. This includes, he said, teacher assistance to help pupils evaluate their needs and abilities and providing them with inspiration to continue their education so they will be better prepared for future gainful employment.

DON'T FORGET MAY 15th!!!

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church will act as hostess to the first Senior Citizen meeting to be held in Bethel on Tuesday, May 15. The guests will gather at 11:30 a. m. and luncheon will be served at 12:15 with a social time following.

Response has been excellent and there certainly seems to be considerable interest in organizing such a group. The Sudbury Inn and the Bethel Inn Beach Club have offered their facilities for future meetings.

Do mark the 15th of May on your calendar and join the "65 and over" gathering.

HIGHWAY CONDITION BULLETIN ISSUED BY SHC

The State Highway Commission will again publish and distribute its Maine Highway Condition Bulletin. The handy, one-page bulletin, issued every month during the construction season (May to November), shows the location of all major highway projects in the State that might cause any inconvenience to the traveling public.

Interstate projects being built on new location and certain small bridge projects that cause little or no inconvenience to motorists are not shown.

The 17 by 14 inch bulletin has a simplified highway map of Maine printed on one-half the sheet with circled numbers in red appearing at the locations of construction projects. On the other half of the sheet the numbers are reproduced again with the names of the towns in which the projects are located and a brief description of the kind of work expected to be underway at each site during the month the bulletin is in effect. The approximate completion date of the work is also given.

Motorists and other highway users may obtain copies of the bulletin at the Maine Publicity Bureau or by writing the State Highway Commission, Augusta.

In addition to the season publication of the Maine Highway Condition Bulletin, the SHC each month of the year releases a complete list of all highway and bridge projects being built in the State on the Primary and Secondary Systems and their urban extensions, the Interstate, under the State Bridge Act, State Projects and Federal Access Roads. This complete monthly report also lists the projects opened to traffic and those placed under contract during the preceding month. It includes total costs, includ-

COUNTRY FLAVOR

WHY A GARDEN?

Why do men garden? It is because in this world of tensions and artificiality a man can get down on his knees in good soil and know that his hands are in Earth's basic resource. He can spade, hoe and cultivate in mellow, rich humus and appreciate that in a world of increasing complications, he is in contact with something unchanging, simple and fundamental.

Why do men garden? It is because the heart grows tired of the ruthlessness and self-seeking of men who place power and prestige about honor and service. When a man goes into his garden at the end of a day in the marketplace, he can listen to the evening songs of birds. He can see plants that

BETHEL CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE ORGANIZED

On Sunday May 6, 1962, Rev. Joshua C. Wagner, district superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene in Maine, organized the Bethel Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Wagner declared the church officially organized at 11:36 a. m. after receiving 12 persons into charter membership in a short but impressive ceremony around the altar at the front of the new church. The church charter is to remain open for 60 days and those persons joining during that period will also be charter members of this new church.

The organization service was a climax to months of planning, preparation, and work on the part of a great number of people. The Bethel Church is now numbered with nearly 6000 Nazarene churches with a missionary program that reaches around the world to more than 40 foreign fields.

Appointments of members to the various church offices were made by the district superintendent. This is the usual procedure in newly organized churches. Thereafter, officers are elected each year by the voting church membership.

The Church of the Nazarene endeavors to be a family church by providing services, programs, and activities that appeal to the various age and interest groups. A Young People's Society and a Foreign Missionary Society are to be fully organized and active in the near future.

HEALTH FOR ALL

There Ain't No Such Thing

as tired blood. Even when you are limp with exhaustion, your blood is rushing zippily around tending to business.

People who think they have tired blood are really complaining of chronic loss of pep. There may be any number of reasons for that tired feeling, and there's nothing you can buy over the counter that will cure it.

First consider the possibility that you're not as young as you used to be. Who is? As you get older you're bound to slow down a bit. You can't go on for an endless round of activities without feeling the effects in fatigue. You may need more rest.

Are you getting enough sleep? If the alarm clock finds you almost unable to get up the morning, you may need to go to bed a bit earlier.

Boredom can give you a feeling of being tired. You can get just as worn out not having enough to do as you can overworking.

On the other hand, constant tiredness can be a sign of something wrong. It's a symptom of many disorders, none of which you can diagnose yourself. If rest and several good nights' sleep do not relieve persistent tiredness, you should see your doctor.

HEEDING POWER MOWER SAFETY TIPS WILL PREVENT ACCIDENTS

"More families than ever before will take the easy road to attractive lawns and gardens this year with power-driven equipment," E. R. Klammer, accident prevention director of the Allstate Insurance Companies, points out.

"Unfortunately, a record number of persons will suffer injuries as a result of accidents involving these labor-saving tools unless they observe basic safety habits when operating them around the home," warns Klammer.

He says the power garden tool business expects a record-breaking year in 1962, providing homeowners with a wide variety of machines which help to reduce the burden of maintaining beautiful yards. The presence of more power mowers and the introduction of new types of gardening equipment will create a serious accident hazard if operators ignore the common sense rules of safety in the summer months ahead.

Klammer refers to a two year study in California which showed injuries caused by power lawn mower accidents increased more than 40 per cent during the period covered. This reflects the growth of power mower use but serves as a warning to all operators that the equipment can be dangerous if handled carelessly.

Nearly half of all persons disabled in these accidents were actively mowing the lawn when they were hurt, the report reveals. One injury out of every six occurred when persons tried to lift mowers which were running. One in eight involved attempts to start the engine and one in every 10 injuries was sustained while removing grease or foreign objects from the blade or in taking off a grass catcher.

But not all accidents involve operations. Recently, newspapers reported a tragic story of a five year old boy in Memphis, Tenn., who was killed when a sliver of steel was thrown from a rotary mower and pierced his heart. Power mowers can hurl deadly pieces of metal, stones or other debris, creating serious hazards for persons near such equipment, Klammer warns.

With the increasing number of power mowers in use and the addition of new and more complex garden equipment, Klammer urges all operators to study this checklist of safety precautions before beginning to work in the yard this spring.

1. Inspect the yard for stones, wire, sticks and other debris before using any power equipment to avoid throwing such dangerous missiles from the moving blades.

2. Learn how to start and

V. A. NEWS LETTER

A widow's income has no bearing on her eligibility for dependency and indemnity compensation payments if her veteran husband died of a condition attributable to service, Dr. Joseph S. Weltman, Director of the Veterans Administration Center, Togus, says.

Dependency and indemnity compensation payments may be paid the widow of a veteran whose death was the result of his service, Dr. Weltman said, but her other income has no bearing on this payment.

However, income limitations do apply to VA death pension. This is an entirely different benefit which may be paid the widow of a wartime veteran who died of a condition not attributable to service, Dr. Weltman said.

stop equipment safely by reading the instruction book carefully. Understanding the operation also will help to enjoy long repair-free service from the engine.

3. Always disconnect the spark plug wire or electrical plug whenever you refuel and repair the machine.

4. Allow space in the tank for fuel expansion and never refuel when the engine is hot.

5. Keep children and pets away from the mowing area. Be especially careful that they do not get in line with the grass discharge from the machine.

6. Stop the motor whenever you leave the mower. (Children are quick to try to operate an unattended mower. Don't give them a chance to do it.)

7. Never allow children or inexperienced person to operate the mower.

8. Cut hills and slopes sideways, never up and down.

9. Never operate a mower barefoot. Wear safe shoes and protect your legs.

10. Stand firmly behind the mower and stay in step with it. Do not run so fast you must run to keep pace.

11. Do not use an electrical mower when the grass is wet. Always plan your cutting pattern to avoid crossing the power line.

12. Never try to remove clogged grass or stones from a running machine.

13. Keep equipment clean to avoid fire and insure trouble-free operation.

14. When using an attachment to a power unit, make sure it is fastened securely before starting the motor.

15. Store gasoline in an approved container, out of children's reach, and never keep it in the house or basement.

GOULD ACADEMY

Gould Teams Busy This Week End

On Friday, the Gould Varsity baseball team will travel to Fryeburg Academy for a Western Maine Conference game. The Huskies have victories over Mechanic Falls and Oxford Hills, but are expecting strong opposition from their Academy rivals. This will be the third game of the week for the Bethel nine, pending weather conditions.

On Saturday, the Gould J.V.s will travel to Hebron for a return engagement. This game is scheduled to start at 12 noon.

At home, the Academy track and field men will be competing against Oxford Hills and Mechanic Falls in a triangular meet. The Husky track men dropped their opening meet at Rumford and had their last week's meet with Farmington cancelled because of the weather. This will be their first home performance.

Perkins Institute for the Blind During four days of last week, Headmaster Edmond J. Vachon of Gould Academy stayed at the Perkins Institute as chairman of an evaluation committee for accreditation in the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. During two morning assemblies at the Academy, Mr. Vachon reported on some of the things he observed—means of mobility and communication among others. Two ideas he concluded with are that the blind want no pity and that they must be independent.

MAGAZINE WARNS OF SENSITIVITY TO INSECT BITE

More people in the United States die of insect bite than of snake bites, and probably a good many persons death certificates report death from heart attack or heat prostration actually suffered a fatal reaction to insect venom, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

An article in the current issue of the magazine warns that although the stings of the Hymenoptera insect group—honeybees, wasps, hornets and yellow jackets—probably don't account for more than 20 deaths a year, they remain a potent threat to life for persons who are sensitive to the venom.

The magazine lists four classifications of symptoms: 1) slight general reaction with rash, an itching, a feeling of anxiety and malaise; 2) general reaction with any of the less serious symptoms plus swelling, constriction in the chest, wheezing, abdominal pain, nausea, vomiting, dizziness; 3) severe general reaction with difficult or labored breathing, difficulty in swallowing, hoarseness, thickened speech, confusion, a feeling of doom; and 4) the true shock reaction, which may produce any or all of the symptoms mentioned plus blueness of the skin, falling blood pressure, incontinence, collapse, unconsciousness and—if help does not arrive quickly—possibly death within minutes.

"After the first abnormal reaction, it is a good bet that each succeeding sting—and it

George R. Davis died Thursday, May 3, at the Chapel Valley Nursing Home, West Paris, where he had been a patient since January 16.

Born at Milton Plantation, Sept. 29, 1877, he was the son of James C. and Lucretia Lovejoy Davis. He married Emma Brown who died May 19, 1937. Mr. Davis was a member of the Fraternal Lodge, KP, Bryant Pond. He had been an active farmer and lumberman prior to suffering a stroke Dec. 2, 1961.

He is survived by a step-son, Edgar J. Davis of North Woodstock; a brother, Albert W. East Milton; four step grandchildren and four step grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the I. W. Andrews & Son funeral home, South Woodstock, Rev. Roland Lord officiating. Interment at the Wayside Cemetery West Paris.

will only need a single sting a time—will produce a more severe illness as the victim gradually builds up sensitivity. Changing Times reports.

"No one can predict the degree by which sensitivity will be increased with each successive sting," the article points out. "The important thing is that in almost every case the first reaction warns of more serious trouble ahead. And this is the time to see a doctor about getting desensitized if that doesn't seem quite necessary, getting equipped to deal with an emergency."
